

Master Instructor - Contract

Prosci is seeking dynamic, Prosci-certified individuals with a passion for change management to deliver Virtual Instructor-led Prosci Change Management Training on a contract basis. We partner with dedicated contract instructors who possess energy, executive-level expertise, and a thorough understanding of Prosci's change management research, methodologies, and tools to assist clients in building their capability to manage the people side of change. Prosci's training delivery schedule is flexible and includes weekday and weekend programs.

Responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Instruct clients in Prosci's proprietary change management methodology in the virtual environment.
- Maintain up-to-date mastery of Prosci's change management offerings. Note: While Prosci's training programs are currently being conducted in a virtual environment, travel may be a requirement in the future as the company resumes in-person training.
- Combine career experience with Prosci methodology to illustrate real-world change management application and answer clients' questions specific to their individual change initiatives
- Foster client relationships to establish Prosci as a valuable, long-term partner to organizations as they navigate their most critical change initiatives

Required skills and experience include but are not limited to:

- Premier presentation and facilitation skills
- Demonstrated success facilitating learning in a virtual environment
- Ability to incorporate relevant career experience and expertise into the learning environment
- Demonstrated experience successfully engaging with entry- to C-level leaders
- Executive level experience (vice president equivalent or above)
- Corporate career experience in a fortune 500 or similar environment preferred
- Intermediate computer skills (a "producer" will support the technical aspects of most virtual programs)
- Bachelor's degree; advanced degree preferred
